

QuadMed Arrives in Florida with New Naples Health Center for Collier County Employees and Families

QuadMed's first Florida health center brings coordinated, whole-person care to Collier County employees

NAPLES, Fla., Sept. 2, 2026 — QuadMed, a national leader in employer-sponsored healthcare, today announced the opening of QuadMed Naples, its first health center in Florida and a dedicated care destination for Collier County employees, eligible spouses, and covered dependents.

Designed around the needs of the County workforce, the center brings primary care, same-day treatment, preventive services, chronic condition management, and wellness resources together in one location. The coordinated model is intended to help employees address health concerns earlier, stay current on preventive care, and spend less time navigating disconnected healthcare services.

"This health center represents a fundamentally different way to deliver care," said Kathryn Quadracci Flores, MD, CEO of QuadMed. "Collier County is not buying its employees a network or renting them access to a system. It is building healthcare around the people who serve this community every day, and that distinction matters. When care is designed around a workforce, you see people engaging earlier, trusting their care team, and getting healthier over time."

QuadMed Naples will provide:

- Primary and preventive care, including well-visits, vaccinations, and screenings
- Same-day treatment for common illnesses and minor injuries
- Personalized support for chronic conditions, including diabetes and weight management
- Onsite lab, diagnostic, and pharmacy services
- Virtual care and access to 24/7 nurse support
- Health coaching, care coordination, and healthcare navigation support
- Wellness education and employee-focused health programs

By combining these services, employees have a consistent care team that understands their health history, helps coordinate next steps, and connects them with additional resources when needed.

The center is staffed by an experienced healthcare team that includes a physician medical director, advanced practice providers, and clinical support professionals. The QuadMed team will also coordinate with Collier County's wellness, benefits, and health advocacy resources while maintaining the confidentiality of each patient's clinical care.

Beyond individual patient visits, QuadMed Naples will support the County's broader workforce health strategy through health education, annual health fairs, workplace wellness campaigns, and biometric screenings. Population health insights will help identify workforce health trends and opportunities to focus resources where they can have the greatest impact.

Together, these services are designed to improve the employee experience, encourage earlier intervention, and help Collier County manage long-term health and benefit costs more effectively.

“This center turns our commitment to employee well-being into a practical benefit employees and their families can use,” said Amy Patterson, Collier County Manager. “Convenient access to same-day, preventive, and ongoing care can help people address concerns earlier, stay healthier, and feel better supported. It is an investment in the employees who serve Collier County every day.”

QuadMed Naples will operate Monday through Friday, offering both scheduled and same-day appointments. The center is powered by QuadMed MyChart, the Epic platform that gives patients 24/7 access to their health information in one convenient place, where they can view test results, manage appointments, and communicate with their care team.
